Baltimores Outplay the New Yorks at Every Point-Bostons Enjoy More Washington Fle-St, Louis, Louisville and Chicago Capture the Other League Games.

The Brooklyns won a clean-cut victory over the strong Philadelphia team yesterday, even though they did not hit the ball as they will probably do later. The New Yorks, on the other hand, were easily disposed of by the Baltimores. Doyle's men putting up a slow, don't-care sort of game that was tiresome to a mere handful of devoted cranks. The Bostons, with young Streit in the box, had another picnic at the expense of the Washingtons, and are now in fourth place, on even terms with McGraw's players. Chicago's success in again defeating the Cincinnatis moved the Windy City team into second place. St. Louis got away with Pittsburg once more and hung on to the lead with a clean string. The luckless Cleveland tailenders were marks for the Louisvilles, who are tied with Brooklyn. The results: Brooklyn, 6; Philadelphis, 4.

PRILADELPHIA. April 21.—The second controversy between Philadelphia and Brooklyn lacked the spectacular interest which characterized that of vesterday. There was not the slightest doubt about the outcome after the third inning, when the Superbas located Orth's delivery safely five times, including three doubles, the net result of which was five runs, one more than the Quakers made in their entire nine linnings. Yesterday the Superbas played like a lot of Yannigans, to-day they played like champions. But one fielding error marred their work, and that was partly excusable. Dahlen, after starting to make a double play alone, suddenly changed his mind and threw the ball to Tom Daly when within a few feet of him. Daly was not prepared for the throw and dropped the ball. Nothing came of it, however, the side being retired without scoring.

of it, however, the side being retired without scoring.

The Philadelphias hit Dunn hard and often enough, but they were unable to make their rhitting count, as their record of thirteen men leit on bases against the Brooklynites six indicates. Their fielding was not strictly glitedged, but at that their errors cut no figure in the run-getting. Joe Kelley easily carried off the fielding honors, capturing six flies, reducing doubles to singles, and otherwise deporting himself in a way that had a dampening effect upon the locals' run-getting aspirations.

The Philadelphias opened their run account in the second inning. Flick bunted safely and went to second on Lauder's out, seoring on a single by Douglass. Cross also made a single, buthed ded on base with Douglass, neither Orth nor Cooley being able to do anything for the cause. The Brooklynites settled the result of the game beyond reasonable doubt in their half of the third, when they developed a batting streak that took all the life out of the Quakers. Kelley began with a soild drive to centre for two bases and scored on a single by Reeler, who went down to second on Cooley's poor throw-in to head off Kelley. Cassidy reached first on balls. McGann followed un that piece of luck with a rattling double, scoring Keeler and putting Cassidy on third. Dahlen, not to be outdone, sent a double whizzing out of harm's way down the right-field line, scoring Cassidy and McGann. Anderson kept up the good work with a single and Dahlen counted. Daly flied to Cooley. Then Anderson essayed to steal ascond and was headed off by Douglass's good throw to Lajote.

Manager Hanion switched Cassidy from short to third, putting Dahlen at short. The change worked all right. Jennings, who has been compelled to lay off on account of a sore arm, had the injured member examined to-day by a member of the University of Pennsylvania faculty. It is not likely that the crack shortstop will resume his place before warm weather sets in for good. The attendance to-day was only 4,002. The score:

BALTIMORE, 5: NEW YORK, 1

Not more than 500 persons turned out to see the Baltimores defeat the New Yorks at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon. The weather was cold and raw. The locals played a sleepy game and were helpiess in their attempts to hit the left-landed twisters of Pitcher Nops. The Baltimores hit Carrick, on the other hand, rather freely and put plenty of ginger into their fielding, but they continued their kicking against decisions and delayed the play on several occasions.

their kicking against decisions and delayed the play on several occasions.

Holmes scored in the first inning on a two-bagger to left and two errors by Hartman on one play—a muff and a wild throw to the plate. In the second Lachance hit for two bases, Magoon singled and Robinson doubled, all of which netted two more runs. Safe hits by Brodle, Sheckard and Lachance vielded another run in the fifth, while in the ninth Brodle scored the fifth run on his hit and steal and Sheckard's single. New York's solitary run was made in the fourth inning on Yan Haltren's made. The score:

WARRINGTON, April 21.—The Senators were beaten to-day by the champion's new left-hander, Streit, Though Streit had nothing but the old-fashioned round-house curve and was generous in issuing free walks to first, the locals only secured three runs and eight scattering hits off his tame unlivery. UTICA, April 21.—Coach Couriney of the Corneli crew is making special efforts this year to get the crews in condition earlier than usual on account of the prelimnary race to be held on Lake Cayuga on Memorial Day, May 36. At first it was supposed that this was to be a race between the candidates that could not make the 'varsity crew at Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania, but, as is well known, the Cornell crews are not picked until the day of the race, so that the race on Memorial Day will really be a race between the best crew men at Pennsylvania and Cornell.

IT'S A MATTER OF SKILL, the making of correct clothing, and not one of mere industry and machinery. It is the taste that enters into the selection of materials and patterns in the first place, and then into the cutting, making and trimming in the next place that distinguishes our sort of apparel from the common, cheap kind.

Yet the conditions under which we make our clothing for our fourteen retail stores enable us to manufacture at so much less cost than the smaller dealer must pay for his stock that our clothing is not expensive. Our Men's Suits cost from $7.00 to $25.00 and Boys' Suits $2.00 to $15.00, according to quality and size.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST GLASS AND TACK THROWERS.

Reward of $25 for the Arrest and Conviction of a Person Committing Such an Act—A Captain's Hints on Arranging Club Runs—How to Ride to Philadelphia. Although steps have been taken by the L. A. W. Consulate, the nature of which it is not permissible to divulge, to put an effective stop to the strewing of glass and tacks on east side streets, complaints are still being made. One rider who went through Broome street from the Broad way ferry a few nights ago says that he arrived at home with three tacks in his rear This is a matter which wheelmen should not leave to the League nor to the police, but should exert themselves individually to check. There is a standing reward of $25 offered to any one who causes the arrest and conviction of a person who commits such an act. This offer is from the American Society for the Pre-

In case of a conviction the penalty may be a fine of $500 or one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary, or both. Information concerning any infraction of this section of the Penal Code is solicited by the society. It should be addressed to John P. Haines. President, Madison avenue and Twenty-sixth street. Such information will, if requested, be treated confidentially.

The roads everywhere within riding distance of the city, as reported to the New York State Division of the L. A. W. yesterday, are in firstrate shape and should be fair on Sunday if clear, even though there should be rain to-day. Touring cyclists desiring detailed information regarding any particular route within fifty miles around this city, and the conditions of the same, can obtain it by writing to W. S. Bull, Secretary-Treasurer, New York State Division, L. A. W., 132 Nassau street, inclosing a self-addressed envelope for reply. As in many instances it will require some correspondence to secure up-to-date information, cyclists are requested to allow several days and to apply by mail.

A pleasant twenty-five-mile run from Central Bridge to Bronxville and back can be taken by going straight up Jerome avenue thirteenimiles and a half to the Turkahoe road. There is only one severe hill, and it occurs just after leaving the city line. The road is either macadam or excellent dirt all the way excenting the last three-quarters of a mile. At the Turkahoe road turn to the right to reach Bronxville, and after going over the hill at that place the rider can continue straight down through Mount Vernon and Williamsbridge to the Pelham Parkway. All the way back the road is macadam.

Would-be scorchers who are fond of engaging in a short brush with strange riders will do well to be wary if they go on the Coney Island cycle rath to morrow. They should not be too hasty about picking up a smooth-faced, innocent-looking young man, or they may turn the laugh on themselves, for Eddie Bald is in town and has begun his riding. He said yesterday that he would take a turn or two on the Coney Island path to-morrow.

yesterday that he would take a turn or two on the Coney Island path to-morrow.

Complaint has reached The Sun from riders who are wont to attend the runs of different clubs during the season that they get confused in making their selections when there occurs a rainy Sunday, because the clubs are not sufciently explicit in stating whether in event of rain the scheduled run is scratched entirely or nostponed. Some do one thing and some the other, it is said. This would seem to be a just criticism. Many riders are members of several erganizations and like to select the crowd with which to ride according th destination, but a rainy Sunday leaves them in doult whether seven days later the destination is the one set for the date or that vianned for the previous week. The unattached riders, whom all clubs are glad to welcome, because of their being possible recruits, are put in the same quandary. This should be avoided. The captain of one club, who is a man of exterionce, points out that if runs are postponed it changes the entire schedule of the club, not only for the month, but for the season, by shoving each run along one week. As there are ant to be several rainy Sundars during a season the shifting along will be confusing, even to the regulars of the organization. He argues, therefore, that the only proper method is to hold runs according to card, scratching out those prevented by rain, which, if they happen to be particularly desirable trips, can be substituted in the ensuing month for some other run not so much favored. These are points worth being noted by captains, and in order that correctlinformation concerning runs may be published clubs sending schedules of TRE Sun should specify whether in case of rain the run will be abandoned or simply postponed and the entire list moved along one week. Rides scheduled for to-morrow are:

R. Levy asks The Sun for the best route from New York to Philadelphia. This is a popular trip and one along which the road conditions change frequently. Therefore the following information, which has been obtained from Secretary-Treasurer Bull of the L. A. W. from the latest reports, will be of general interest, because it is new: following information, which has been chained from Secretary-Treasurer Bull of the L. A. W. from the latest reports, will be of general interest, because it is new:

The shortest way to Philadelphia is through Staten Island. The distance from St. George to Metuchen, N. J., is 23bi-miles. The most convenient way for cyclists from New York is via the Pennsylvania ferry at Jersey City. The distance to Metuchen that way is 31 miles. For those who do not wish to cross Twenty-third street ferry to reach Jersey City the Fort Lee ferry can be used. The distance from that ferry to Metuchen is 36 2-3 miles. There is only one route from Metuchen to Bristol, Pa. Beyond Bristol there is a choice of routes. The usual one is straight shead to Frankford, but the hill between these two points can be avoided by taking the straight road which lies east of the Pennsylvania railroad from Frankford into Philadelphia. The road is all macadam or asphalt, going over a nice town lane to Port street. Many cyclists take the train from Jersey City to Newark, but the road has only a few bad places. There is one at Communipaw avenue, going down to the plank road, and another in River street for a mile before reaching Ferry street. Ferry street is paved with a fair stone pavement and at the end of a mile burns to the north, but if the cyclist will continue straight ahead for one short block he will reach Lafavette street, which is asphalt all the way to the Pennsylvania Railroad. There is a piece of poor stone pavement for a couple of blocks along the railroad to Walnut street, and by following the asphalt pavement and bearing off to the south to Frelinghuysen avenue the cyclist will reach Elizabeth turn to the west to Westfield avenue, which is the first street before reaching the railroad continue un this street to the first bridge over the railroad. Gross the road from Plainfield to Metuchen or New Brunswick not good, while the one now suggested is meacadam road, but the shorter way is to ture to a good macadam road, but the shorter way is NOTES.
